BETHLEHEM UP TO 155---THEN DROPS TO 123

Fluctuation Furnishes the Greatest Stock Sensation in Years.

BIG PROFITS MADE: WILD EXCITEMENT

Another display of pyrotechnics in Bethlehem Steel yesterday sent the price to a new high record mark of 155 and furnished the stock market with the most sensational day's trading in that stock since the great rise began last fall around 30. From the top of the day there was a slump of 123, amid wild excitment, just before the close.

No such violent fluctuations have been witnessed on the Stock Exchange in many years. According to some authorimany years. According to some authorities, it is necessary to go back to the days of the great speculation in American Sugar in 1899, when that stock used to fluctuate as much as 40 points a day, to find anything to match the reent market in Bethlehem.

Yesterday's rise in Bethlehem was the more amazing because it came on ton lent upturn last week. It caught a newly formed short interest and drove it to cover with heavy losses.

From the very start it was eviden In for fireworks. The first sale was 1,000 shares at 126 ½, up 2 ½ points from the close of the previous day. The price dropped back temporarily to 122½ and since his death it has been a struggle to keep it going. The company has price dropped back temporarily to 122½ and then swept up perpendicularly n for fireworks. The first sale was emphasized by another wild scramble to y, which shot the price up to 155. At the top, the demand slackened suddenly and what was really the most spectacular development of the day occurred, namely, an almost straightaway drop to 123. This was the largest and most rapid reaction that has taken place throughout the rise and was regarded as indicating that the market for the stock the short interest, which has hitherto supplied much of the buying power. The peculiar market conditions which ght the great advance about were n present. There was the same close. But speculation outside the exchange was less widely induized in A good many of the conservative commission houses refused to allow their customers to do anything in the stock except on a cash basis.

The punishment given the shorts has been an object lesson to persons who have been inclined to anticipate a collapse in the price and the wild fluctuations seen yesterday frightened allowed by the traders. Later the constantly that there was no important position on either side of the market in Bethlesen. The heighes to which the shock has risen have been applicated by the short sales. The punishment for the day nevertheless in the price and the wild fluctuations seen yesterday frightened all except the very boldest speculators.

Commission houses again maintained position on either side of the market in Bethlesen. The heighes to which the shock has risen have been applicated by the short sales. The secondary frightened all the shock has risen have been applicated by the short sales. The saccounts for the constantly renewed short interest, it is not believed that there is any short interest of a concentrated characer. Although the stock has been pretty much left alone by the general public lately some people have been hurt by the injudicious speculation. The efficials of the Stock Exchange have during the inst day or so received a number of amounts of the six of the stock Exchange have during the six of the six of the six of the six of account from the raders. Later indicated by the six of any of the traders.
